

Dear Practitioner,

In mid-2010, DesBio began conducting extensive scientific research with the goal of developing the most effective and specialized homeopathic product in the professional market to accompany a low- or very-low-calorie weight loss plan. We were proud to introduce hA<sup>2</sup>cg Evolution in August of 2011. This homeopathic formula does not contain homeopathic HCG (human chorionic gonadotropin), but rather the two active amino acid chains proven most likely to support a low-calorie-diet. Through this formula, we have been able to provide our practitioners with an innovative, patent-pending, solution that provides the many benefits of a low-calorie-diet support product. Since its introduction, practitioner and patient response alike has been overwhelmingly positive to this revolutionary approach to supporting practitioner-guided weight management.

Due to the lack of clarity regarding the regulatory position of homeopathic HCG, DesBio discontinued selling its homeopathic HCG formula earlier this year, long before any official clarification from the FDA was issued. With the introduction of hA<sup>2</sup>cg Evolution, we feel that we provide a formulation that not only provides enhanced effectiveness, but also fits well within current FDA parameters for homeopathic products. It should also be noted that the majority of FDA focus has been directed towards OTC and retail HCG products, with very little discussion regarding the use of HCG among licensed healthcare professionals.

As a professional-grade company, DesBio has long stood by that all of our products and protocols are intended to be utilized under the care of a licensed healthcare professional. We continue to maintain that the low- or very-low-calorie diet options that are supported by the hA<sup>2</sup>cg Evolution formula should be medically-supervised by a healthcare provider that diligently monitors their patients from start to finish.

At DesBio, we strive to provide our healthcare providers with the highest quality products and always consider safety and current regulations of utmost importance. We stand behind hA<sup>2</sup>cg Evolution as an HCG-free solution to supporting your low- or very-low-calorie protocols and will continue to provide you with the most innovative homeopathic products on the professional market.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to email Dr. Shelton, Clair, or Jake.

Best Regards,
Jake Carter
CEO Deseret Biologicals, Inc.